The Wassaic Project envisions, nurtures, and creates a community that is economically vibrant, socially inclusive, and infused with creativity. Art and artists are at the center of this effort. Through our arts programming and in partnership with other non-profits in the region we are cultivating the next generation of youth leaders through internships, workshops, mentoring, and creative engagement with artists. We are all committed to exploring new ways of thinking, experimenting with ways of expressing our discoveries, finding ways to honor our individual and community histories and all in the spirit of generous exchanges.
